

MRS. ELLA HODGE
MAKES ESCAPE

Given Tip by Wire From Salt Lake.

OFFICERS ARRIVE TOO LATE
DELAY IN DELIVERING MES-SAGE GIVES HER CHANCE.

(Special to The Herald.)

Denison, Ia., July 24.—Mrs. Ella Aurora Hodge, who is wanted in the first degree and who has been in Denison, disappeared last night, leaving no clue as to her destination or manner of departure.

Mrs. Hodge arrived here from Salt Lake Wednesday evening, July 15, and since that time has been working for Alfred Larson, her brother-in-law, and manager of the Iowa Telephone company at that place.

Last Wednesday morning City Marshal A. Bowling received a message from the authorities at Salt Lake, requesting him to watch Mrs. Hodge and not allow her to leave the city. Simultaneously the local newspapers received a message from the Salt Lake newspaper requesting them to wire an interview with Mrs. Hodge regarding her actions prior to and after the murder of William K. Ryan near Salt Lake.

Up to this time the authorities here knew nothing of the nature of the charges against her. This morning the authorities were instructed from Salt Lake to arrest her on the charge of murder in the first degree, but when they entered the telephone office her chair was empty. "She had fled," they said. "The night before last."

The Thursday night trains were closely watched and it is the general opinion that she took her departure on the bumper car which drove to a neighboring station. Omaha, Des Moines and other police authorities have been notified to be on the lookout for her, but she has not been located.

Mrs. Ella or Aurora Hodge, who is wanted in this city on the charge of murdering William K. Ryan on the banks of the Little Cottonwood, at a spot a mile east of Murray, on the night of Saturday, July 11, has eluded the authorities at Denison, Crawford county, Ia. A newspaper reporter, acting for a Salt Lake morning paper, had forewarned her. She arrived in that city Wednesday, July 15.

The wrong information given Chief of Police Burdick at the police station Thursday afternoon, he says, is partially responsible for the woman getting away. "The night before last," he had a clerk of the telephone office ascertain definitely whether Denison was a night office or not, instead of guessing at it. The clerk, however, believed that the woman suspected of the crime would not be under arrest. About 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon Captain Burdick directed a message to the marshal of Denison, Ia. It was virtually a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Hodge, who also goes by the name of Alice Fisher, although her brother's name is Alfred Larson. She was held with murder in the first degree in causing the death of Ryan. When the clerk at the Western Union office was asked if the Denison office had received her reply in the affirmative, the clerk stated, but is closed at 5 o'clock each afternoon. All messages received at that place after that hour are transmitted to Chicago, and the next morning sent back to Denison.

"Had the clerk informed me that Denison was not an all-night office," said Captain Burdick yesterday afternoon, "I would have wired my warrant to the nearest city or town and informed the chief of police or marshal to spare no expense to get the message to the marshal at Denison as quickly as possible. The probabilities are that the message would have reached Denison in time to have resulted in the arrest. There is nothing now that we can do but to hope that the woman may be apprehended by the local authorities in that section of the country. The last advice I had were to the effect that the woman was headed west. We have not abandoned hopes of catching her."

Clew First Given by Herald.

The first clew that seemed to connect Mrs. Hodge in some way with the Ryan murder was set forth in The Herald a few days after the crime was committed. At that time the clew was the disappearance of the woman and an account of her actions was printed.

Detectives Norrell and Raleigh of the Norrell & Raleigh Detective Agency took up the clew and followed it down. They secured evidence which convinced them that Mrs. Hodge was the person wanted and when they had completed their case sufficiently, they laid the facts they had gathered before Captain Burdick, County Attorney Westervelt and Sheriff James Sharp. These officers took the matter under consideration and the order for the arrest of Mrs. Hodge was the result.

Always Carried Revolver.

Ogden, July 24.—Another circumstance developed today in the chain of such that have come to light since The Herald's publication of the statement of the mysterious actions that fastened the suspicions of the officers upon the woman, Mrs. Ella Hodge. The development of yesterday's statement was that a girl who was an inmate of the Crittenton home at the same time as Mrs. Hodge. She says that the latter carried a pistol when she left the home. The weapon was of 32-caliber and was carried pinned underneath her skirt. This, in the minds of the officers, does much to confirm the theory that the woman was desperate and ready for any adventure.

JAMES SHARP HURT.

Injured by Fall From Horse at Midway.

James Sharp met with an accident yesterday near Midway, Wasatch county. He and his brother, John Sharp, were coming down Snake creek horseback. They were riding rapidly in order to catch the Rio Grande train at Charleston for Provo. James Sharp's horse stumbled and fell, throwing him to the ground. He escaped serious injury, although as the horse rolled over it fell on one of Mr. Sharp's legs, which had recently been hurt.

The injury will lay him up for some time. The delay caused him to miss the train and a special was sent from Provo to Charleston to bring them down. They left Provo for Salt Lake on a freight train, coming in last evening.

FADED WITH STAKES.

Holder of Bets Disappears in Double Quick Time.

"Jake" Raleigh would be pleased to meet the stakeholder again. It was after the races at Agricultural park that "Jake" first met him. Some young fellows were chasing around the track with a couple of horses and a spectator remarked that the smaller of the two horses could beat him for $10, said "Jake." Some one intimated that he could take the bet and the stakeholder said it would be most agreeable to him.

Turning to a bystander, "Jake" put $10 in the man's hands and started out for his little boy. He returned presently, but failed to find the custodian of the $10, although the search was diligently prosecuted until a late hour last night. The race did not take place.
